Due to the potential negative impact of significant shipper long imbalance positions on MRT storage operations, MRT is issuing a System Protection Warning (SPW) effective 9:00 a.m. Thursday, March 19th, 2026, and continuing until further notice.

During this time:

- 1) Shippers should avoid daily long imbalance positions.
- 2) Shippers with Firm Storage will be limited to their counter season maximum injection entitlement.
- 3) MRT may not schedule any nominations that result in a daily long position.
- 4) MRT may not accept any makeup of short positions.

Failure to comply with this SPW may result in the issuance of an OFO. Nominations will be confirmed and scheduled in accordance with MRT's Tariff.

This SPW will be updated as more information becomes available.

If you have any questions concerning this SPW, please contact your Scheduling representative.
